Dear Mr. Alexander

I came across the online back-end developer education in Noroff Education AS researching how to upskill personal IT knowledge. And I am very eager and excited to apply for the Back-end Development 1 - Education Professional Degree of Back-end Developer at Noroff.

Software Development has always excited me, and as a Back-end Developer, I can explore my capabilities as a software developer to the full extent. I believe that my JavaScript, CSS, HTML, React, REST API and MS Cloud Fundamental knowledge and certificates lack back-end fundamentals. This will get me more opportunities to do some complex and exciting software development work as a software developer.

My future in the software and IT industry is building competence in cloud services.

I want to possess all the qualities and qualifications to be a Software Developer, specifically, a Back-end Developer. I have also done some certification courses in Microsoft, Scrimba and Economy University.

I have got the opportunity to work on some challenging projects. I have contributed significantly to bringing the projects to their logical completion and successful deployment on many of them.

I also define the technical and design requirements and ensure that they are appropriately communicated to the team. My focus is to develop high-quality reusable code that can be used in the future.

I am much a team player and an overall performer and ensure the delivery of my assignments.

Thanking You,

Goran Lovincic
